Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Catalogue of Scientific Papers, 1800-1900, Vol. 1: Subject Index When the plan for a Catalogue of Scientific Papers was drawn up in 1857 by the Royal Society, it was also contemplated that a Subject Index to the papers should be made. During the compilation of the well known twelve volumes of the Catalogue of Authors(1800 - 1883)much material was collected for the Subject Index by the Committee of the Society which had charge of the work, but nothing was printed. In 1898 it was determined to undertake the continuation for the period 1884 - 1900, and at the same time to prepare material for a Subject Index for these last seventeen years of the century. It was afterwards decided that one Index should be made to the papers of the whole of the Nineteenth Century; and to bring this Index into relation with the International Catalogue of Scientific Literature, which deals with publications subsequent to 1900, the Index was to be arranged in accordance with the schedules of the different sciences which form the basis of the International Catalogue. The extent of the work for the period 1884 - 1900 proved to be so great that the resources of the Royal Society would have been quite inadequate for its completion. Its continuation has been made possible by liberal donations received from various sources. The Catalogue is especially indebted to Dr Ludwig Mond, F.R.S., a member of the Committee entrusted with its preparation, who has encouraged and forwarded its progress in every way for many years past; in particular, in addition to similar generous donations at earlier stages, Dr Mond recently undertook to provide an extremely...
